"Welty" is an exhibit featuring 14 photographs by Eudora Welty. During the early 1930s, Welty traveled across Mississippi as a publicist for the Works Progress Administration and used the opportunity to take hundreds of photographs of her native state. The exhibit juxtaposes some of those photographs with excerpts from her writing to show the relationship between her source material and her writing. Photographs by Eudora Welty are courtesy of Eudora Welty L.L.C. and the Eudora Welty Collection, Mississippi Department of Archives and History.
